THE 1975 ANNUAL

Shortridge High School

Indianapolis, Indiana

Volume 81

'Ridge expresses an idea ... describes over 2,000 unique people. The current integrated, jean-clad SHS population has worked together to keep our ever-changing identity alive. These are the people who have supported the Shortridge teams, joined the Student Council, various clubs, built homecoming floats or helped with other activities. In our kaleidoscope of students, teachers, and administrators, a pride thrives.

Our proud past has set a pattern for today's Shortridge. Many former 'Ridge students are prominent figures, such as Mayor Richard Lugar and author Kurt Vonnegut. Our alumni, too, cherish SHS. Upon request, they have written to us their feelings and memories of Shortridge. Through the years, the pride and spirit of Shortridge has rallied on. We hope this yearbook will set this year apart from the rest and tell the story of Shortridge, 1975.

"As I have heard the merits of public education debated in the past two decades, I appreciate the opportunity to point with pride to Shortridge High School as an important answer to those who would question faith in democratic institution, and the public schools, in particular. I have remained excited about the potential of Shortridge High School in 1975 as I was in the fall of 1947 when I entered Shortridge High School for the first time. For a quarter-century, Shortridge High School has met the challenges and enjoyed the adventures of dynamic change in our society."

Richard G. Lugar
Mayor

"Memories remain of games won or lost, club projects, social functions, report cards, etc., but-more than everything-Shortridge was a spirited group of people, interacting, intelligent, optimistic, fun-loving, hardworking people. It was a magnificent environment in which to spend one's teen years."

Max Schumacher
General Manager, Indianapolis Indians

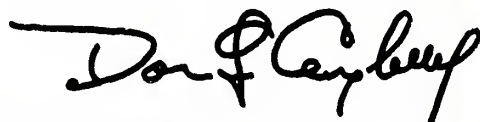

"Shortridge was a happy experience, I remember it, and shall remember it, with pleasure and a sense of gratitude I was there."

Edward H. Ziegner
Political Editor, Indianapolis News

"I suppose that one never appreciates, at the time, just whether he is getting a good, mediocre, or poor education at the high school level. It's several years later, I think, before he realizes that the fact that he's avoided so many pitfalls, hurdled so many barriers and missed so many bumps isn't really coincidence, but the fact that high school education was so solid."

Financial Editor, New York Daily News

Reading Tested in English Dept.

This year the English Department, along with all the other high school's English Departments, tested freshmen, juniors, and seniors to see if their reading level had gone up at least one level since last June. If a student's reading level had not gone up satisfactorily they were helped in their English classes, and second-semester seniors were offered a class called reading expansion.

According to Ms. Jean Whitcraft, English Department head, the aim of the department is to train the students in reading, listening, speaking, and writing, and this year the department accentuated listening and speaking skills.

New teachers this year were Ms. Sandra Scott who taught Special Education, and Miss Mary Esterline, who taught freshmen and sophomore English courses.

Right—Denise Peacock finds out she is just the right type, as she finishes an important letter in Business Correspondence.

Below—The new Automated Instruction program will help these students to achieve more in the future by ironing out present typing problems.

New System Aids Beginning Typists

There were many innovations in the Business Education Department this year, according to Mrs. Ruth Webb, department head. For instance, clerical practice was expanded from a one-semester to a two-semester course. Also, students taking first year typing were introduced to a new program, the Automated Instruction Program. The program was geared to the individual achievement of each student. It involved a series of films and cassette tapes, given to students at their own pace, interspersed with classroom work. Teachers were on hand to help and give individual attention to those who needed it. The program was the only one of its kind in Indiana.

Mrs. Twyllah Taylor, who taught last year, transferred to Attucks High School.

Juniors Draft

Lilly Papers

Anthropology students dig up their history through a new simulation game. The game was designed to give students a better idea of how scientists discover the remains of the past.

Freshman were introduced to social science in Social Studies 1 through an in-class study method.

Mr. Catus took on the new U.S. I and II G classes. The development of research skills and fact-finding were high priorities in the new class. Perfection in writing Lilly Scholarship papers is their ultimate goal. This year, Shortridge had more participants than in recent years. The history department applied to participate in the National Humanities Faculty Thematic Project for 1974-1976. The topic is "Moral Uses of Power."

Diesel Powers Publications

The new features in the Industrial Arts Department include a new diesel engine. Diesels are superior to internal combustion engines because they can handle a much heavier load.

The Print Shop also has a new Plate Dryer. This is used in speeding up the process of drying the cast pages. This is a great help in the production of the Echo and game programs.

"Holiday Ideas" Presented at Hobby Show

The foods 5 class gave a demonstration of "Holiday Ideas" at the Gift and Hobby Show this year, presenting their knowledge from the previous four semesters.

The Home Economics Department was sorry to announce the retirement of Ms. Frances Grubbs in January, after 18 and one-half years of teaching, 3 of which were spent at Shortridge.

The clothing department participated in a Spring Style Show at Tabernacle Presbyterian church and displayed items in the Spring Arts Festival at SHS.

ROTC Teaches Citizenship

The purpose of the JROTC is to train Cadets in the basic principles of citizenship. Instilling a sense of responsibility, through the assumption of leadership, a Cadet broadens his ability to cope with life.

The ROTC ranks range from basic Cadet to Lieutenant Colonel. Freshmen begin as Cadets and work their way up through higher ranks.

Members of ROTC also enjoy the privilege of joining extra activities. These activities are color guards, rifle team, drill team, and M.P. duty. These programs give the Cadet a chance to test his or her skills learned in ROTC.

The ranking officers this year were: Lt. Colonel Evans, Lt. Colonel Howard, Major Williams, Captain Ratcliffe, and Captain Randolph.

P.E. Classes Sport Wider Range of Activities

The Physical Education classes widened their curriculum in terms of participation this year. Boys' P.E. teacher Gary Brown told of the variety of sports available to the boys. These sports, including basketball, volleyball, wrestling, and football have been either improved upon or added to the curriculum this year.

Girls' P.E. classes have been active in the field of gymnastics. The girls participate in partner stunts, pole climbing, and various other gymnastic stunts.

The Drug Ed. classes have been involved in many oral and written activities. These activities dealt with advertising in alcohol, dramatizing the legal aspects in alcohol, and viewing films about alcohol abuse. The classes also studied pharmacology.

New Head Has Dept. in Hand

All sorts of Art Contests were brewing and many students prepared art portfolios to enter in the Regional Scholastic Awards Contest. Many other students entered their art work in the 500 Festival, a collection of Indianapolis Schools' Art, which is usually displayed on the circle.

The Art Department started the school year with two new teachers, Ms. Corrie Wilson, and Ms. Warda Gourley, who replaced Mr. Sheldon Kantor and Mr. Ian Fraser.

Ms. Wilson was the new Art Department head, and she taught Craft Arts, Ceramics, and Art Appreciation. She thought Art Appreciation was a very good course for serious art students, and said that more emphasis should be put on this class.

Ms. Wilson has big plans for the Art Club, too. She took members to the Indianapolis Museum of Art and plans were made for a long-range trip. The annual Shortridge Art Festival was also held once again May 10th.

As the new head, Ms. Wilson said she enjoyed the "feeling of warmth" at SHS.

Right—Precise measurements are a very important factor in general science as shown here by Jerry Dunford.

Below—Doretha Watson takes time out of her general science class to ask Ms. Ballow for some help with a problem.

Science Class Size Increases

A greater interest in the science department seems to have caused an increase in classroom size this year, not only in the two semester courses, but in the advanced classes. Ms. Carol Smith, the new department head, has taken this interest as an opportunity to try the use of laboratory assistants on a large scale, and try new projects.

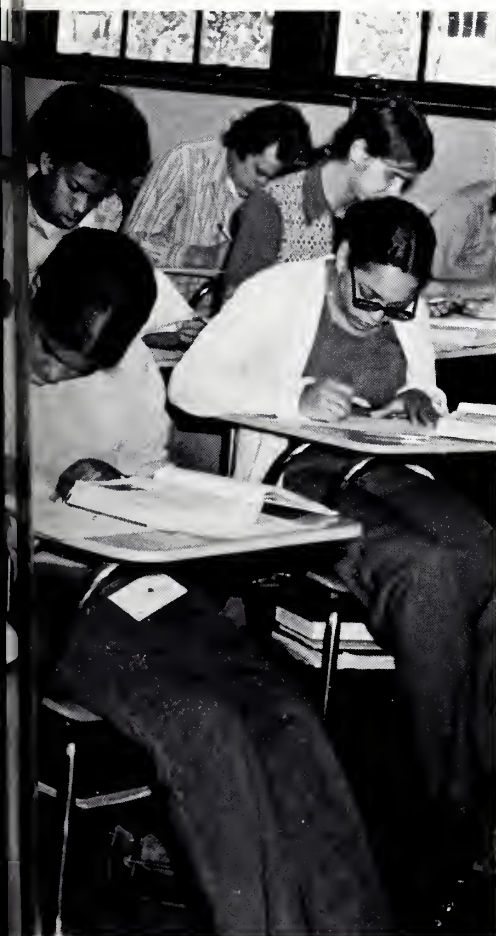

Seventeen lab assistants were working in all areas of the department, ranging from running errands for the science office to helping teachers set up experiments and other class projects. Most of the work is done during the assistants' free periods for which they receive a small fee, but a great deal of experience.

Room 301 has become the office for Project Star, Student Teacher Associated Research. During the past summer, two teams from Shortridge, which consisted of Ms. Smith and David Thuma, and Ms. VanHorn and Thomas Williams, took part in a program that offered them the opportunity to learn and experience the functions of research by working with research scientists. The main purpose of the project was that the teams would be able to implement their own project during the year.

Another program that took place during the summer was the Project SEED Research Program, which was sponsored by the American Chemical Society. Two students, John White and Lucia Spears, worked in chemical and biological research, respectively, for 10 weeks while receiving a stipend. This project was also based on giving students experience in research.

Middle left—Physics students concentrate on a test about time and motion.

Advanced Students Compete in Math Contests

The head of the math department, Mr. Gibson, would like to start the math clubs again after their coming to a gradual end. If enough people joined the clubs that Shortridge was once famous for, the department can get speakers from Purdue and Butler Universities to help. Students in algebra and geometry can join the Hi-Pi club. Those in advanced algebra, unified math and calculus who maintain at least a "B" average and have a math major can join the Mu Alpha Theta club. Math clubs were very active for over 54 years, between 1916 and 1971. Ms. Wahl offered to help any students who want to get them started again.

As far as the math department goes, there were no new teachers or equipment. But there will be new textbooks next year which are supposed to be an improvement over our present ones.

Two students in advanced algebra and unified math represented Shortridge in early March in the National Math Contest. The Marion Country Math Day was May 3rd. There were preliminary tests for all students in algebra, geometry, unified and calculus who wanted to participate. Three students from each level participated in the county-wide contests.

Students Tested for Study Programs Abroad

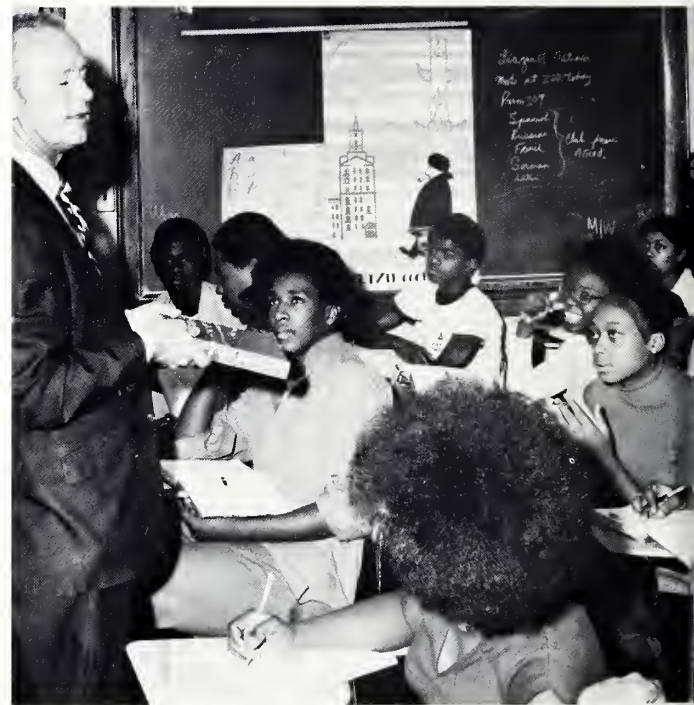

Under new guidance, the Foreign Language department flourished this year. After the retirement of Ms. Louise Reiter last year, Mr. Alain Sutherland took over as department head and part-time German teacher, along with his advanced French classes.

Mr. Sutherland also aided I.U. Honors finalists in German and French. Spanish students tried out for the program, too. Last summer, two Shortridge students, Edward Ramsey and Nathan Thuma, went to foreign countries on the I.U. Honors program. Nathan went to France and Ed to South America.

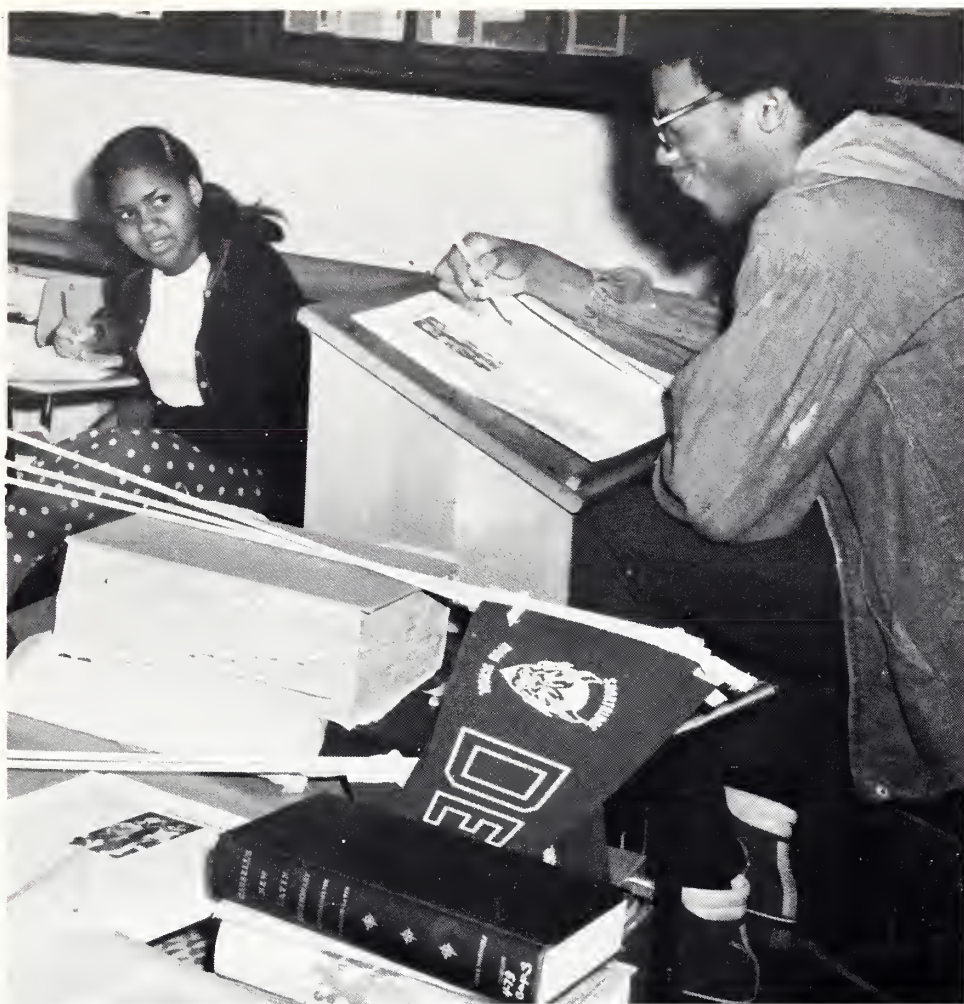

Among other activities planned, the department went to Ball State University for a language "get together", and a German class demonstrated a typical day in a classroom for a hobby show. Language clubs flourished, and a new club, the League of Nations, was formed, with Solomon Kennedy as president. The League of Nations was a combination of language clubs formed to promote foreign cultures and languages.

DE Job Trains Student Talent

Distributive Education is a program in sales and merchandising. The students, who are mostly juniors and seniors, receive one credit for the class and one credit for a job they have in this field. Many of the jobs are with department stores such as Sears and Blocks. The students find their own job and are hired on their own merits.

In the classroom two areas are covered: general studies, and specific education. The general studies includes human relations, which is essential in any business career. The specific studies are designed to fit the individual's need in the specific job career in which he is interested.

DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America), is sponsored by Mr. Randall Smith. The students in this club participate in regional, state, and national competition. There are 15 different contests in which the students can choose to participate. The student chooses to participate in the contest that involves the area in which he is interested. Some of the areas are window display and sales demonstration. The contest usually is made up of a test to determine how much the student knows about the subject, and an activity that gives the student an opportunity to use the knowledge he has on the subject.

Biz Ed. Clubs

Pay-For-Work

COE, (Cooperative Office Education), is a vocational program for students who are interested in clerical and secretarial work. The students receive two credits in this program: one credit for the class and one credit for having a job which requires clerical or secretarial skills. The students are paid for their work like any other employee. The job gives the student both working and learning experience in this field.

Co-curricular with COE is the OEA club, sponsored by Ms. Brenda Branham. The title stand for office Education Association and is open to any student interested in clerical and secretarial fields.

Competition with other OEA clubs in the city makes this organization more exciting and motivating. One such contest was held October first, at which time each club was to enter a ladge to represent their school's OEA club. Shortridge won first prize, which was a scrapbook. There are district, regional and national contests of the OEA clubs. This year, the national contest was held in Chicago.

Perhaps one of the biggest events of the year was the Employer—Employee Banquet, which was held in the spring. As the name implies, the students invite their bosses to the banquet in appreciation for their cooperation in this program.

Popularity of CSP Soars

Above—An informal talk about jobs at Indiana Bell is led by Ms. Pat Morrison, employment counselor.

Career Sampling reached a new peak of popularity this year, with an average of thirty students a week experiencing different jobs. More freshmen were involved in the program than ever before.

Of all the programs offered to students, the most popular were those dealing with health careers and nursing, with courts and journalism, with law and government following.

Some students have been hired where they sampled jobs, at places like IMB, the Children's Museum, B&T Shell, and Winona Hospital.

As usual, Career Sampling sponsored the "Senior Thing" in October and the "Junior Thing" in March.

New programs were tried, such as an open house, a rap session at LaRue Carter, an open house at Methodist Hospital, 24 students working at the polls in November for the National Election Service, and going part-time to Tech High School for special courses.

scenes

"My first poems were published in the Spring Sampler. My first journalism was in the Shortridge Daily Echo. I produced my first plays there, acted and sang there, learned Greek there and first got interested in politics there. The first scenes I wrote were for a Shortridge Junior Vaudeville Act that got cut at cuts. Everything I've done, it seems, started there."

Swimming Club Flourishes Under Coach Hunt

This was Ms. Sandy Hunt's first year as sponsor for the Intramural Swimming Club. Its 38 members met at Riverside Community Center, Tuesday afternoons from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Both males and females attended. The main purpose of the club was swimming for fun, but some members were taught different strokes.

According to Ms. Hunt, "The club did real well, and the kids had a great time. But not enough people knew SHS had a swimming club."

Student Council Sponsors "Hop"

The Shortridge Student Council got off to a slow start this year. Ms. Mary Esterline, the new sponsor for the group, helped president Joye Carter with organizational problems and election of new members. Homecoming activities were sponsored by the council again. Organizing the dance, queen contests, float contests, etc. were delegates to special committees who put together their efforts for a unified homecoming celebration.

The Student Council met bi-weekly to accomplish a more comfortable relationship between students, their activities, and the administration.

Quiz Team Rousts Tech 62-22

Exercise in Knowledge is definitely a growing "sport" at SHS. This year, Shortridge again has produced a dynamite squad. Team members Dave White, David Thuma, Rick Jones, and Clayton Richardson showed one of their superior efforts in a match against Tech on Jan. 9, beating them by a score of 62-22. This margin was one of the largest ever recorded by a Shortridge team.

In only a few months of preparation, Mrs. Constance Kirby, Quiz Team sponsor, put together a great 1975 Exercise in Knowledge team.

Below—Quiz team members for Shortridge and Tech breeze through the warm-up questions. Questions are provided by all the participating high schools.

Chess Team Captures Mid-America Title For Third Year

The Shortridge Chess Team, in a disappointing season, put together a squad of: Richard Heard—first board, Rick Jones—second, Clax Richardson—third, David Harper—fourth, and Eric Strickland on fifth board.

The team got off to an early start in September by capturing the Mid-America High School Tournament for the third straight year.

In match play, the chess team suffered tough losses to Broad Ripple and Arlington, but defeated Southport, Brebeuf, Greenfield, Central, Marshall, and Tech.

Above—Pondering the intimidating “sac” of Richard Heard, Rick Jones blatantly ignores opting for the strongest variation.

Artists Enrich Shortridge

Shortriders enjoyed a two-week visit from Claudine Paluzzi, painter and sculptor, who visited us on the Artist-in-Residence Program. Ms. Paluzzi visited classes, and demonstrated her art to the students, using such materials as plaster and sand.

The Artist-in-Residence Program at Shortridge is sponsored by the P.T.A. and the Indiana Arts Commission. Pay for the artists was taken out of grant from the Commission and the Indiana Foundation for Artists-in-Residence. The program brought artists from such fields as journalism, music, art, drama, and dance.

Journalists in Residence Revitalize Shortridge

As an off shoot of the Artists in Residence program, a Journalists in Residence program was presented to students in February and March.

The program was devised by Rachael Beck, Chairperson of the PTA Arts Committee and Mr. Ben Johnson, Principal, then further developed and revamped by a committee made up of Shortridge faculty and community people.

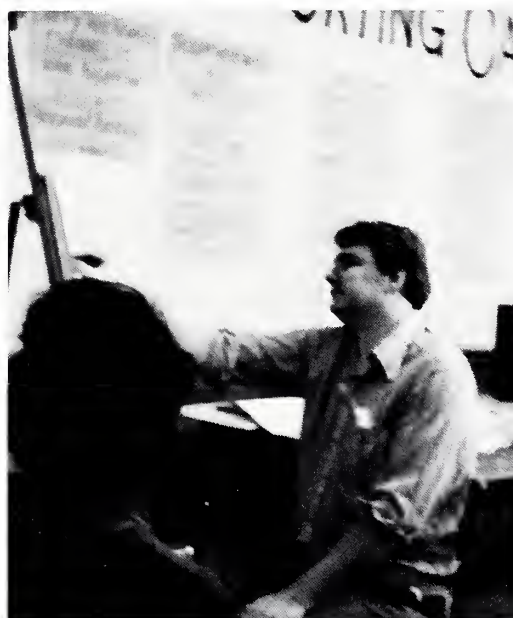

A grant from the Indiana Art Commission provided the financial help needed, and the assistance of Joyce Levin, Fritz Lieber, and Monte Trammer helped shape it into a very successful program.

People from all facets of journalism came to Shortridge and talked to students in the west end of the cafeteria and in room 123 about their work. Some were: R.K. Shull, for the "News", Claudia Polley of WNTS, Ronnie Bell for Channel 8, and many other journalists and independent writers.

Chilean Student Science Fan

Richard Beltran is a Youth for Understanding exchange student from Chile, in Latin America. Ricardo lived with the R.W. Moss family, who have a son and a daughter attending Shortridge. Ricardo had a special interests in the area of science. After graduating from Shortridge in the spring, he planned to attend a university in Chile and study engineering. Ricardo also likes sports, especially swimming, football and fishing.

The Russian Club of 1975 attended a ballet. Sponsor Ms. Deborah Waycott, and president Becky Gordon, arranged for the club to visit Clowes Memorial Hall at Butler University and orient themselves with a Russian ballet. Kevin Fuqua, Kris Glickert, and Lydia Ashanin were some of the members who were on hand for this event.

Ms. Kathryn Lerch and Mr. Allen Sutherland sponsored the German club this year, featuring a membership of 18. Officers this year were Kelley Osgood and Cindy Swanson. One of the highlights of this year was a German dinner. Ms. Lerch cooked part of the meal, while some students contributed their own creations. After the delicious dinner, the students listened to German music. Plans were made for the club's presentation at the State Convention.

Language Clubs Learn Through Fun and Frolic

Students flocked to Language Clubs this year, and attendance was high.

Pennants were sold by the Latin Club, and 79 dollars was raised, according to club president, Solomon Kennedy.

Annie Fine, French Club member, arranged a French-only tour of the Indianapolis Art Museum. Also, a pitch-in dinner was held at the home of Elizabeth Earnhart. Among the delicacies served were quiche lorraine and vicchysoise. A suggestion was made by Mr. Sutherland, sponsor of French Club, to begin a foreign language bicentennial project for the next school year.

Many advanced language students participated in the I.U. Honors program, which enables high school juniors to spend two months of the summer before their senior year in a foreign country. Practice included early morning sessions, drills, and tests. In December it was learned that Ginger Blumenthal, Suzy Dove, Annie Fine, Nancy Hernly, and Leah Hickerson, had all successfully passed the first test in French. Ginger Blumenthal also passed the test for German.

Guitars Great In New Group

Along with regular programs at the school, the band performed their own concerts, took part in parades, and performed for other schools.

The marching band is made up of the "A" band members and the pom-pom girls. It is directed by Mr. Leonard Behling. Through his direction, the band has won various first place awards. The band performed at the Rushville Parade in Rushville, Ind., and at our own "500" Festival Parade. Concerts included the Sweaterman's Concert in March and ones at schools #86 and #76.

New to Shortridge this year were guitar classes taught by Mr. Medjeski, who was assisted by Mr. Rodgers. Students learned the fundamentals of guitar and other strings.

The A Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. John Medjeski, played at the Christmas Concert this year with members of the A Band joining them. They played Christmas carols and part of Handel's Messiah. Later in the year, they played in the Sweaterman's Concert. The Orchestra plays many different pieces, classical and modern alike.

The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs worked hard this year learning the basics of singing and music. They are non-performing groups, although toward the end of the year they each participated in Glee Club festivals. After this first year of musical training, many members will join the A Capella Choir.

A Capella Choir is traditionally known for singing music without accompaniment and for its Choral Classic held every Spring. Students are selected by audition for this choir. Performances this year consisted of auditoriums for the Mayor and reknown musicians and out-of-state performances.

Music Makers Warble Around 'Ridge

Madrigal Singers are selected from the A Capella choir to sing difficult pieces. Both Madrigals and A Capella are under the direction of Mr. Philip Rogers.

Musically inclined students were offered Music Theory again this year. The class, taught by Mr. Leonard Behling, trained students to read, write, sing, play, and interpret music. Students also took music dictation and ear training.

During the first semester, the class wrote small musical pieces for mixed choir and piano, and second semester they ventured into writing pieces for instruments. Since the students all had previous musical experience, some performed their own pieces.

Stage Workers Support Plays, Display Scenes

Half of the success of a staged production depends on the scenery, lights, and sound and at Shortridge, that half is supplied by our stage crew.

Stage crew members constructed sets for the Senior Play, Junior Vaudeville, and any other activity presented to 'Ridgers on the stage.

To broaden the experience of stage crew members, a stagecraft class was offered, and taught by Mr. Teddy Gelb, who was also sponsor of stage crew.

"Whodunit" Quite Successful

Celia Granger, a genteel woman living in a splendid mansion on the Hudson River, suddenly finds her well-ordered life shattered by the murder of her maid, Kathy.

Immediately, she, her son, and all the other members of her household are suspect. A rugged, probing detective, who has admired our heroine for quite a while, is called into investigate. Another murder follows: this time, the chauffeur, Moreno who thought he knew the killer. Suddenly, Celia finds herself alone in her house but she doesn't know who the murderer is!

There lies the plot of the Senior Play, titled "Design for Murder", which was presented November fourteenth and fifteenth. Unlike times in the past, when seniors class spirit waned, the cast was made up entirely of seniors, including the student director, Slim Bailey. Under his guidance, and also that of Mr. Phillip Hirsch, the faculty director, the play was very successful. Leads were well played by Gail Smith as Celia, Tyler Jones as Carlin, the detective, James Johnson as David Granger, and Ernest Jarret as Moreno. Other members of the cast added spice to the production, often even providing comic relief. Many seasoned thespians contributed their talents to the play.

SHS Thespians Present Drama

One of the many prestigious organizations of Shortridge today is the International Thespians Society. This society is an organization that was originated in the mid-forties and has continued to grow steadily. A thespian is one who has earned the credit equivalent to 100 hours of stage performance. This credit is used as reference for acting or backstage programming in future years.

Shortridge was one of the earlier troupes to develop their part in the organization. Out of three thousand some odd troupes in Thespians, Shortridge was the 595th to develop.

During the 74-75 school year, footlighters have shown their dramatic ability through numerous activities. Among those are the Senior Play "Design for Murder," the Christmas touring play "The Christmas Gifts," the traditional "Junior Vaudeville," and the all-school play in May.

Xmas Spirit Lights Upon Feeder Schools

This year's Christmas touring play was "The Christmas Gifts" by Dorothy Sumerau. The story was about a newlywed couple who send meaningless gifts to friends for Christmas. The holiday was just a hopeless effort until by the magic of the Christmas Spirit, the gifts were given meaning and the true definition of giving is revived.

Every year the touring troupe brings enjoyment to various feeder schools in the SHS district. This play gives newcomers an opportunity to develop acting and drama skills.

76 JVV Explores Film World

The class of 76 added a new and different touch to Vaudeville. The scripts used this year were purchased From Carol Burnett show. The five acts were Lovely Story, Alice Portnoy and the Bank Robbers, The Old Folks, As the Stomach Turns, and Flight 13 to Nowhere. Students also wrote and performed their own intermission acts.

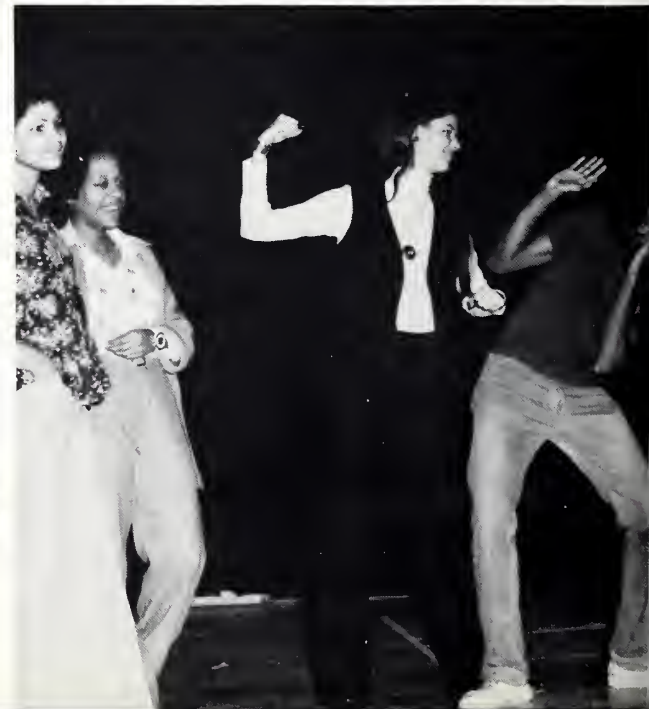

Vaudeville Chairperson Gloria Meyers lead the months of effort and hard work that went into Vaudeville 76. Ms. Susan McNeil, class sponsor and Mr. Phillip Hersch, Mr. Ted Gelb, and Mr. Leonard Behling provided the faculty leadership.

Club Hosts Art Festival

New leadership by Ms. Corrie Wilson sparked the Art Club this year. The club went to the Indianapolis Art Museum, watched Artists-in-Residence, and sponsored our annual Art Festival May 10th.

Ms. Wilson replaced Mr. Sheldon Kantor not only as Art Club sponsor but as head of the Art Department as well. During Easter vacation Ms. Wilson was one of the "chaperones" for a trip to Nassau.

Skating Forms Taught in Club

One of the 'Ridge's favorite clubs is the Roller Skating Club. Students met at "Rollerland" at 926 N. Pennsylvania, every Thursday from 3:15 to 5:45. The charge was 50¢ for admission and skate rental.

Skating Club sponsor, Mr. Allen Sutherland, was dismayed at the drop from 100 members last year down to 35.

The students skated free-style to records they brought. Members were taught all forms of skating by Mr. Sutherland.

Mr. Sutherland stated that roller skating is "a good way to get rid of excess energy."

Religion Probed by F.C.A.

Many Shortridge athletes joined the Fellowship of Christian Athletes here this year. The object of the group was to relate religion with sports. According to sponsor Mr. Ervin Wright, a student does not have to be a Christian to join. He said "You just must believe in something; if you believe in yourself, then that's religion." There are no restrictions to become a member, and female athletes would be accepted, although none joined it this past year.

Members helped at Tabernacle Presbyterian Church with their Fish Fry, painted Shortridge locker rooms and cleaned them up. Members Duddy Reeves, Buddy Ross, and Eddy Ross attended summer camp in '74.

Y-teens is a girls service organization in affiliation with the YWCA. Ms. Eugenia Buckner was sponsor for the group the first semester. The Shortridge Y-teens service projects this year included checking coats at the homecoming dance.

The Lettermen's Club added women to their ranks this year. The women had to have earned a varsity letter, as the men do, and this year women begin attending the meetings held every other Friday.

The Lettermen began working toward the goal of buying a weight machine by selling totebags. Additional activities this year also worked toward this goal.

Once again, our Shortridge Key Club was active in community and school. After our home football game against Brebeuf, they cleaned up the football field. Community-wise, they distributed posters for the Ruth Lyons Christmas Seals Program, worked in a mental hospital "Toy Shop," packaged envelopes for the Mother's March Against Polio, and set up a rest station for bikers participating in the Diabetes Bike-a-thon. The Indianapolis Kiwanis Club sponsored their activities. The club sold posters to raise money for their dues.

Initiation ceremonies were held at the beginning of the second semester, and in the spring. President of the club this year was David Huxhold, and the other officers were also seniors—Bruce Bohlander—V. Pres., Keith Lasher—Treasurer, and Dan Read—Secretary.

Activities with other schools' Key Clubs were planned. Mr. Jerry Steiner was faculty sponsor, and there were eight female student sponsors.

Twelve Scribes Join Honorary

In the fall twelve new members were initiated into Quill and Scroll, the international journalism honor society. To become a member of Quill and Scroll one must have a B average and be on a publications staff, either "Annual" or "Echo."

The initiation of the new Quill and Scroll members was held in the library. Mr. Lloyd Anderson, guest speaker from "The Indianapolis Star-News" spoke about what it takes to be a potential news writer.

The two sponsors of Quill and Scroll are Mr. Houston and Mr. Cohen. Both of them are directors of a publication; Mr. Houston for the "Annual" and Mr. Cohen for the "Echo."

Great Books Reads Classics

The Great Books Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Richard Cohen, met twice a month to discuss important works of literature. The meetings were held after school in the library. Membership was open to any student who liked to read and discuss books.

The members of the Great Books Club chose what books they wanted to read. Wuthering Heights, Pride and Prejudice, Death of a Salesman, and After the Fall have been among the books read by the club this year.

Perfect Paper

Producers Here

Shortridge journalists strove to create a perfect newspaper with the Echo this year. Mr. Richard Cohen held his usual position of Director of Publications, and the new Editor-in-Chief was Dave White.

The Echo participated in several college journalism seminars such as Franklin and Ball State and also attended Marion County Journalism Day at Lawrence Central.

On December 18th, the Echo-Annual Christmas party was held at the home of Mia-Lon Walton. Guests were treated to "Echo Surprise" made by David Huxhold and Dave White, and a mock ceremony at which "Dave" awards were given to several publication staff members.

First Juniors, First Co-Editors

"First" was the word for the '75 Annual staff. The first co-editors, and the first juniors to act as editors-in-chief were Nancy Hernly and Leah Hickerson. Last summer Leah and Nancy attended a two week training session at Indiana University for yearbook editors.

"Pride in Shortridges' Past" was the theme for this year's Annual. Pride in Shortridge's yearbook was obvious among '75 staffers and editors. They worked long and hard after school and vacations to meet their deadlines. Editors and staff members attended the Marion County and the Franklin Central Press Day seminars to increase their journalistic skills.

Cindermen Set 3 School Records

The Blue Devil track team highlighted their '74 season by breaking three school records. Marcellus Greene in the 440 yd. dash, Richard Rourke in the discus events and Ed Murrell in the mile run. Marcellus Greene, only a sophomore last year, set a new time for the 440 yard dash twice, breaking his own record the day after he set it with 49.4 seconds. Richard Rourke landed his new school record sailing the discus 133 feet, beating the old record by more than ten feet. Ed Murrell, the only record-breaking cinderman to graduate, clocked in at 10:07 in the mile run.

Head coach Jim Hausmann compiled an overall 2-8 season but took two runners to the state finals: Ed Murrell, who placed fifth in the regionals, and Mike Greene who placed fifth in the state.

John White Leads Batters

The Shortridge 1974 baseball team ended another very tough season, under their new Head coach Mr. John Haynes, with a record of 3 wins and 12 losses.

One of the outstanding players of 1974 was John White who lead the team with a batting average of .290 and was second in RBI's with 4. Other outstanding players were Derrick Burks, who had the second highest batting average, Darryl Reves who lead the team in RBI's with 6, and James Bowers who had the only homerun recorded for the whole year.

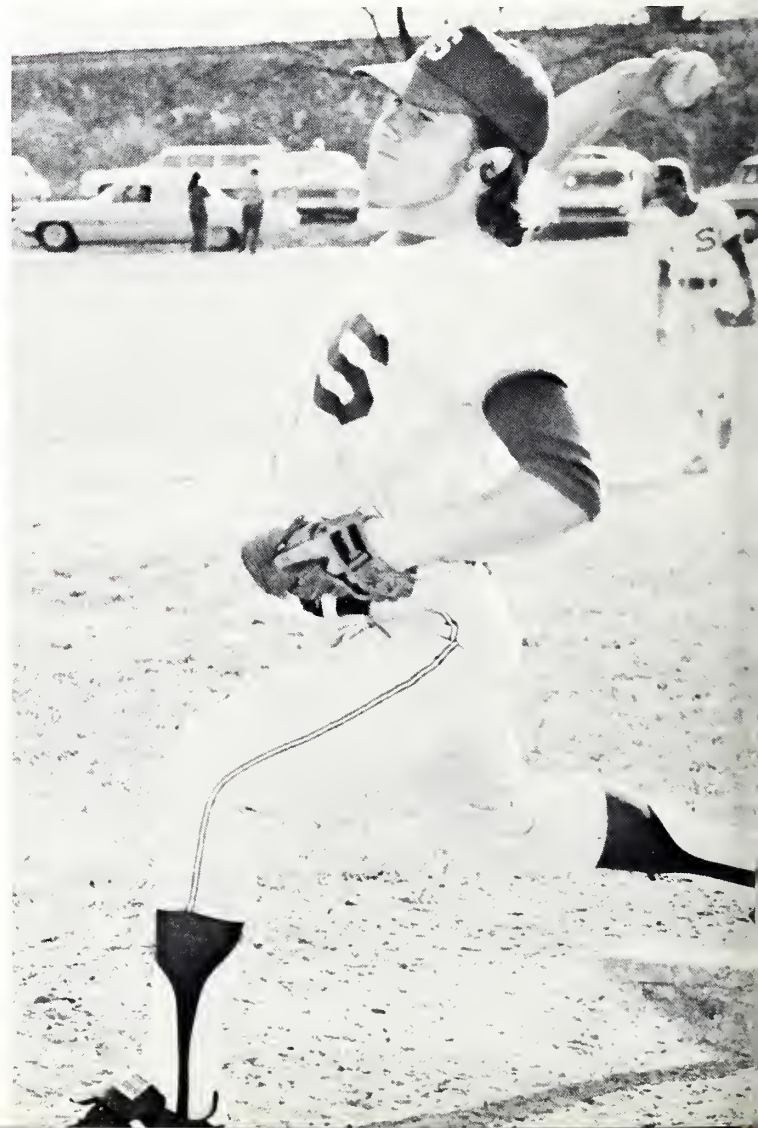

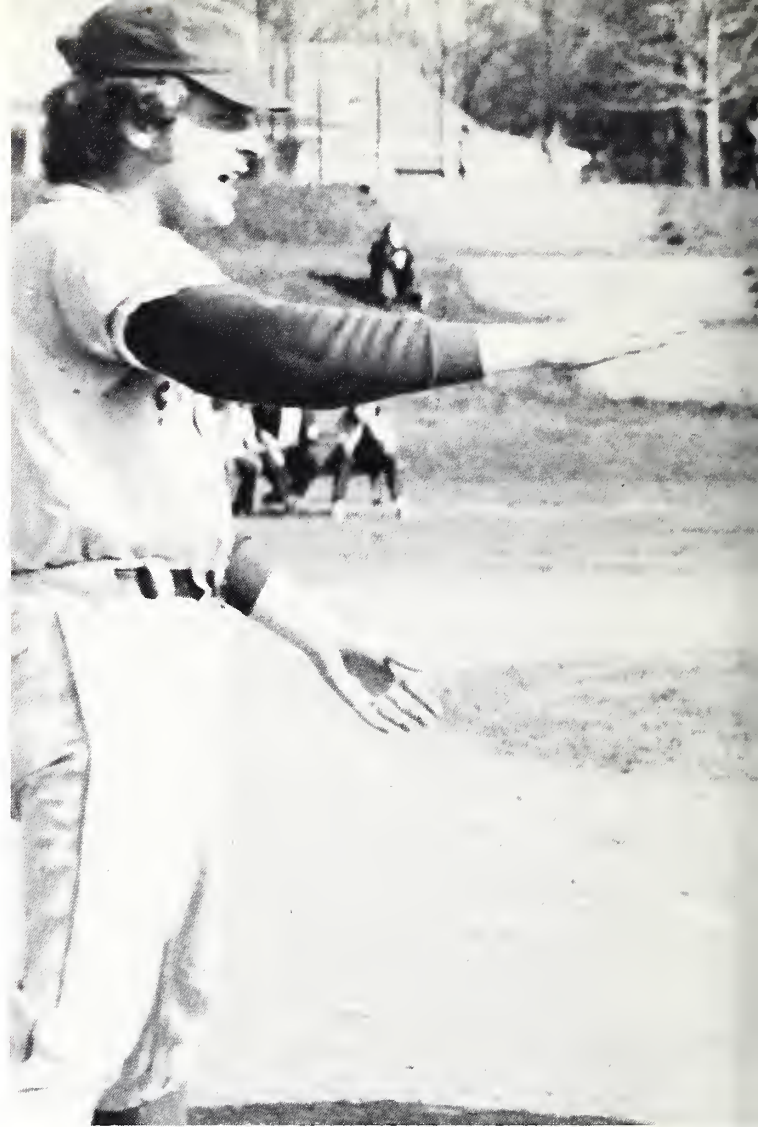

The most valuable player was Ray Baker who graduated last year and who's services will be truly missed.

King Builds Strong Team

Mr. Don King in his first and only year as golf coach took a largely inexperienced group and built a formidable team for the future. First-year golfers Dave White, Chuck Holstein, John Fewell, and veteran Dan Read all showed great improvement over the season and formed a strong team nucleus. The team finished 9th of 11 teams in the city tourney, beating teams they had lost to earlier in the season. The team members agree that "The King" was a great coach and were sorry to lose him to the vice-principalship.

Dan Beck City Champ

This year's tennis team, coached by Mr. Steve Tolin, finished the season with one of the most impressive records in recent years. The team, led by the three returning lettermen Dan Read, David Thuma, and Dan Beck, took third place in the city tourney, and advanced to the semi-finals in sectional play. The overall record for the team was a formidable 10 wins and 4 defeats.

Heading the squad, in the #1 position, was sophomore Dan Beck, who was the City Singles Champ this year. In the second spot was senior Dan Read, and third was held down by junior David Thuma. Fourth was junior Steve McLaughlin, while sophomore Andy McLaughlin was in the fifth spot. Another McLaughlin, Joe, was in the first position on the reserve squad. Seniors Dave White and John Fewell held down second and third positions, respectively. The team was rounded out by freshman Bill DeBow, with an occasional appearance by Richard Heard.

Huxhold and Reeves All-State

The Blue Devil football team received a new head coach this year. Coach Brown managed to compile in his first year a season record of 1-9 and had two players recognized at the city level and two players receiving state honors.

Quarterback Duddy Reeves lead the offense with 550 yards rushed and 1044 yards passed, completing 48 passes during the year for a 29.9% completion average, and a total offense of 1594. John White lead the receivers with 18 receptions for 525 yards and 3 touchdowns. Dennis Avery, noseman, with 68½ tackles lead the defense in average tackles.

Duddy Reeves and David Huxhold were named to the U.P.I. (United Press International) All-State team. Reeves at quarterback and Huxhold as guard.

Grapplers Seize First Place at Tipton Tourney

Coach Ervin Wright’s grapplers, “The Big Blue Devil Demolition,” or if you prefer, the mean muscle machine, fought, folded, thrashed, spindled, mangled, and mutilated their opponents, with six wrestlers winning first place in two tournaments.

The grapplers won the Tipton Tourney, defeating last year’s state champs, and placing nine out of ten wrestlers. Five of these took first place: Anthony Middleton at 119 lbs., Otha Taylor at 126 lbs., Dennis Avery at 138 lbs., Buddy Ross at 155 lbs., and Allen Banks at 167 lbs., who also received the tournament’s most valuable wrestler award.

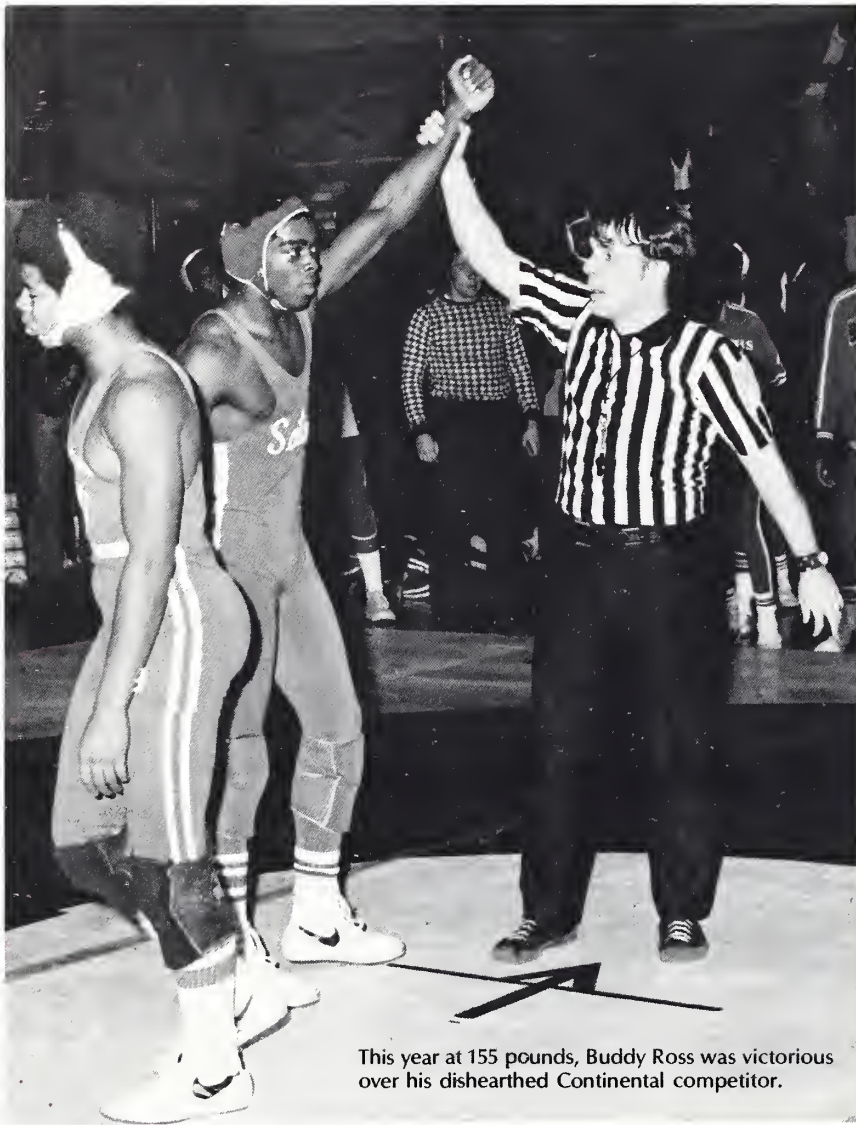

The team finished the season placing third in the State Sectional Wrestling Meet. Freddie Ross, a junior at 105 lbs., won his lower weight division and Dennis Avery placed first in the 138 lbs. class. Three other wrestlers, Buddy Ross, Otha Taylor, and Allen Banks placed second, qualifying them to go on to the State Regionals. Banks was also the only City Champion.

Satans Strive for Improvement

"This year was a building year. A year of striving to play together mentally as well as physically," said Coach Don Thomas after finishing his third year coaching the Shortridge Varsity Blue Devils. The Devils finished with a 6-10 record.

On the final roster, the Satans consisted of three seniors, one junior, and one sophomore. Throughout the season, John Gissendanner, known as the "Alabama Star", was 'Ridge's leading rebounder, and top scorer, with an average of 17 points per game. John scored a total of 326 points this season. "Goose" Gilbert, a 6'2" guard, led the Devil assists. This senior letterman averaged 11.5 points per game.

The SHS cagers had great potential, but were held back by not enough concentration toward the end of their game. During the Sectionals the Devils lost to their first opponent, North Central, by a ten point lead.

Although defeated in the first game, three Satans were chosen for the All-Sectional team. First was Jay Alley, a 6'3" forward, scoring an average of 11 points. Second and third were "Goose" and John Gissendanner, respectively.

The Reserve basketball team finished the 1974-5 season with seven strong victories tucked away. The Devil reserve was headed by Mark Johnson, junior center forwards, Danny Sullivan and Daniel Barlow, and sophomore guards, Delbert Akers and Kevin Bullock.

Coach Charles Fitzgearld said "The team lacked height, But was strong in over all playing."

The freshman basketball team also finished a victorious season. The team promises some prospects for the varsity squad.

'Ridge fans were dazzled by the combined skills of forwards Richard Evans and Derek Ross, guard Andrew Edward, and entire freshman Blue Devil team. Brett Hill was kept busy managing the team. Coach Rod Trabue said, "The team was weak in shooting, strong in defense."

Excell in Track

The girl's track team did not have a winning season, but many of the team members showed promise for the future.

Yulinda Blackmon was voted the team's most valuable player. She was an exceptional high jumper and relay team member. Karon Chambers was the team's star distance runner. She excelled in the 880 yd. run. Runners who did well in the 440 yd. during the season were Helen Russell, Kerry Bingham, and Thea Brown. Tammye Bonner was the team's best hurdler, and Donna Fleming and Selina France did well in the 100 yd. dash and shot put as did Jackie Ware. Della Lacey was as excellent 220 runner for the team.

Lack of Gym Hurts Team

Volleyball losses were due in part to the lack of a home court for playing games. The girls were however able to practice in the SHS gym. The team this year was young with only two seniors, Selina France and Blenda Nolcox. Ms. Harriet Wisdom, coach, summed up the year by saying, "We suffered greatly from the lack of the home court this year. We hope to start our practice earlier next year. We have a young team and are looking forward to a better season next year."

Girls Smash Ripple 64-31

Ms. Harriet Wisdom is convinced that the girls had a good season. They started off with a big win over Broad Ripple (64 to 31). The girls have shown great enthusiasm in learning different plays and practicing.

Most of the girls will be in their third season next year. Starters this season were: LeNore and Lenette Williams, Deborah Nelson, Carolyn Alexander, Paula McIntosh, Eva Humphreys, and Yvonne Washum. The team had one regular starting freshman who contributed a great deal to the scoring (Carolyn Alexander). Lenette Williams was high scorer almost every game. The only player the team will be losing this year is Selina France who is a senior. Betsey "Hatch" Hatchel was voted the most inspiring member of the team. The rest of the team included Linda Williams and Sheri Williams.

Ridge Bowlers

Strong Strikers

The Intra-mural bowling teams of Shortridge High School held their interleague action at Meadows Bowl during the 1974-75 season. Most of the finest bowlers at SHS contributed their talents in the league this year. Duddy Reeves, Crawford Jones, Roger Woodson, Wilbert Buckner, Ivan Caudle, Carlos Banks, Tony Gilbert, Fred Hauck, Richard Heard, Peter Moss, Rick Jones, and David White were many of the pin-point bowlers who clashed with each other every week. This season high scores were tallied. Wilbert Buckner's 212 stunned many bowlers and Rick Jones' 182 helped the "Gutters" cause.

Extremely close matches also prevailed during this exciting season. The "Strokers" squeezed by the "Gutters" in a high scoring encounter with only a two pin margin separating the two squads.

Mat Maids: The New Addition.

The Shortridge wrestling team get a new boost this year in the form of Mat Maids. Ten girls donated their afternoons to cheering our wrestlers through all their matches, city and state tourneys. Un-sponsored as they were, the Mat Maids flourished in their first year.

As the SHS basketball team took a break from play, out came the Devillettes to entertain the fans. In their new blue and white uniforms they performed dazzling routines for the spectators.

The Pom-Pom Girls were lead by their captains Kay DeBow and Debbie Rooks. The squad this year performed at home football games and most basketball games, and in three parades.

Varsity Cheerleaders—Kathy Ann Johnson, Terri Waters, Judy Garrett, Jeanine Murrell, Michele Jones, Vivian Joyner, Karen Crossland.

Cheers Spark Student Spirit

Walking down the hall on Thursday afternoon, better beware of the shouts and yells of the cheerleaders. They can be found almost anywhere practicing for the next big game.

Tryouts were held in the spring for the Varsity and Reserve squads, followed by a summer of practice and going to camp at Vincennes University. While at camp, the Varsity won the highest award given—the "spirit stick," they competed for the Miss Vincennes title, Vivian Joyner becoming one of the five finalists.

The squads this year seemed very successful leading the fans in cheers, yells, and enthusiasm for the teams. This resulted from the help of their sponsors Ms. McDowell and Ms. Hunt.

Soccer Team Joins League

Four years of hard work paid off for the SHS soccer team as they went into their first year of league play. The team participated in a coed league with representative teams from seven area high schools. A spring record of 0 and 10 was bettered in the fall with a 1 and 9 season. Practice and consistency of team membership helped to produce a winning team. Mr. Cochran again was the faculty sponsor. CTS student and member of the Butler Soccer team, Jay Libby provided coaching for the players. Team members and coach were looking forward to a more promising spring season.

Sophs Capture Float 1st Prize

This year, Homecoming was celebrated by two evenings of activities. On October 24th, the first evening, a very successful and entertaining dance was held. Music was provided by a local group, "Black Thorn Rose", while disc jockey Roger Halloway acted as the Master of Ceremonies for the presentation of the Homecoming queen and princesses. Other events at the dance were contests for the best dressed couple, and for the best dancers.

The second evening of Homecoming consisted of the football game against Brebeuf High School. Although the game didn't go well for our team, Shortridge fans' spirits were lifted by the half-time presentation. This show included routines by the marching band and the Pom-Pom Girls, and the judging of floats by the three upper classes. The sophomores received first place for their piece of work, but they didn't win the award without stiff competition from the Junior and Senior classes.

shortridgers

"I think the most outstanding thing about Shortridge High School when I was there from 1940-44 was the "spirit" of team work among the students and faculty, the faculty in providing the best education possible for all students and building in each of us the desire to make this a better world for all."

Have you ever wondered who the handful of administrators is that organizes most everything at the 'Ridge? These are the people that carry the heavy load here at SHS.

Our principal, Mr. Benjamin Johnson, is the head organizer at SHS. He has a hard job and everyone recognizes his capability in handling it.

Mr. Donald Oldham has a number of things to organize as part of his job as Vice Principal of Business. Among these responsibilities, Mr. Oldham is in charge of the budget, business and grounds, the deans, the bookstore, the clerical staff, and the security staff.

Mr. Don King is a new addition to this handful of organizers this year. He was previously head of the SHS science dept. Mr. King took over for Mr. Riley who became principal of Scecina High School. Mr. King is faced with the job of organizing the schedules for 2,000 students.

Shortridge's Director of Guidance is Mr. Peter C. Davis. He coordinates guidance, counseling and testing, evaluates credits and helps with college entrance applications.

Deans, Guards

Aid, Protect

Concern and a sense of humor have aided deans Ms. Betty Garret and Mr. Francis Carter in handling their many-faceted jobs at Shortridge. The most important tasks in their busy schedules were helping students with social, emotional, and subject problems, and just generally helping out and answering whey they could.

Mr. Carter has been Dean of Men for three years, while Ms. Garrett has held her position as Dean of Women for two years, with previous experience in the Athletic and Guidance departments.

Both deans express an avid interest in their work, and a sincere motivation to help and improve students where needed.

Students and faculty were protected and secure thanks to our security guards, headed by Sergeant Robert Taylor. Guards maintained friendly relations with students, while still enforcing order, making them popular at 'Ridge.

"Activity" Word For Seniors

Activity describes the senior perfectly. The Senior Council generated much support and enthusiasm for the Junior and Senior Prom, the Senior Class Play, and Homecoming festivities.

Innovation was a trademark for the class of '75 and this year's Senior Council has maintained that standard by sponsoring the first Annual Basketball Homecoming Dance in February. The Basketball Homecoming featured a King rather than having a Princess as the Football Homecoming did.

“Where to From Here? ...”

“Where to from here? ...” is a mind-twisting question that is asked by every senior at one time or another. Fortunately, Shortridge’s “Senior Thing” provides uncertain seniors with an opportunity to meet representatives from more than 150 colleges, universities, and local agencies.

Right—Judy Garrett investigates a new possibility. Like many other seniors Judy is leaving no stone unturned when considering opportunities for the future.

The National Honor Society, once an exclusively senior organization, initiated outstanding members of the junior class this year for the second time. Nevertheless, the Society has still maintained its high principles of Character, Leadership, Scholarship, and Service. Fund-raising projects for a NHS scholarship to be presented in the spring, included numerous roller skating parties and contests among the classes. Revival of the National Honor Society tutorial program was also a part of this year's Society agenda.

New Things to Come as High School Ends

The Class of '75 will look back on their four years at Shortridge with a kaleidoscope of memories. There will always linger in the mind of every class member a unique collection of experiences and events that will characterize his or her high school years and bring about that occasional good feeling that comes with reminiscing.

Seeking the future,
While the evanescent
Past fades like darkness
at the sunrise.

Taking a new step,
While the security and
Certainty of the present
Crumbles on the edges.

Reaching an old dream,
With the persistence and
Courage that made it Possible.

Vaudeville Uses Professional Scripts

For the first year, the junior class elected all women officers, with Kay Debow as Pres., Michele McClure as V.-Pres., LaDonna Puckett Sec. and Lynn Davis Treas.

Junior Policy was hard at work to raise money for Junior Vaudeville. They tried something new this year by making all five acts scripts from Carol Burnett. Gloria Myers, as chairman of V.V., was in charge of putting the show, including intermission acts, together.

'Ridge Welcomes Largest Group Ever of Frosh

The class of '78 was the largest freshman class ever to have entered Shortridge thus far. The freshmen came from such feeder schools as 86, 59, Kennedy, and Mapleton-Fall Creek. Comprised of 597 students, the class of '78 was able to establish itself in many extra-curricular activities. The freshman football team finished the season with a 8-1-1 record, and this was the first year there were freshman girls on the Pom-pom girl squad.

Although they had no sponsor, the freshmen elected class officers. They were: Kim Sanders—Pres., Margaret Dumetz—V. Pres., Phyllis Brown—Sec., and Robbie Davis—Treas.

Mr. Trabue, the freshman counselor, said that this freshman class was the most energetic he had seen in a long while.

"Shortridge High School was a very special place and I loved it very much. It evoked in most people feelings of great loyalty or great hatred—but never, that I knew of, indifference. I learned a great deal there, not only in classes, but even more outside the school building itself, about friendship, frustration, snobbery, uncertainty, bravado, bravery, bluster, beauty, hurt and harm, loneliness and love.

It was, in short, very much like life, for better and worse—life condensed into four short years and several crowded hallways. I treasure Shortridge not only for the gifts it bestowed on me but also for the blows it dealt me, the hard and lovely lessons I learned in and out of its classrooms that basically seem to me still to apply, a quarter of a century later."

Dan Wakefield

Dan Wakefield, Novelist-Journalist

Our thanks to Mr. Richard Johns and the High School Journalism Institute staff, Mr. Richard Cohen and The Echo staff, Mr. Donald Oldham, Mr. Larry Glaze, our yearbook representative, Mr. Ed Sims and National School Studios, Mr. Clarence Downey, our photographer, Ms. Webb and Ms. McNiel, the office personnel and the counselors, James Benn for the cover design, Suzanne Wells for getting us started, and our deepest, most grateful and most sincere thanks to our dedicated staff and to our advisor, Mr. Robert Houston.

I'd like to start by thanking Mr. Johns for giving me my basic knowledge of yearbook editing. Thanks to Mr. Cohen for the use of his friendly staff (only when he didn't need them, of course). Thanks to all our industrious staff, and most especially to Suzy Dove, who often did more than her share, to Gordon Dove, to Liz French and Sandi Schwarzin for doing the undesirable odd jobs, to Brian Wells, and to Thomas Williams for his ideas and cooperation. And most of all I want to express my most heartfelt gratitude to our patient Mr. Houston, and to Leah, without whose marvelous ideas and humor I would have cracked up. Thank you all.

And so ends the 1975 edition of the Shortridge Annual. I sincerely thank all those individuals who sweated for this yearbook: Mr. Houston, Liz, Suzy, Lewis, Thomas, Kelley, and an especially big thank-you to my twin, Nancy. It's been a lot of work and fun, and I'm not sure in what proportions. With the end of the year our self-pride is swept away at saying good-bye to many friends for the summer. And seniors leave 'Ridge perhaps with damp eyes and surely many memories. With the title of Shortridge Alumni, they leave with a certain feeling of Shortridge pride also instilled in many others.
